

TALK A MILE A MINUTE

1. Prepare two unique sets of your vocabulary words. Keep them hidden.
2. Place students in partner groups.
3. One student will face the vocabulary words and the other will have their back to the vocabulary words.
4. When you give the cue, the student facing the screen will begin to explain the first word without using the actual word.
5. The process continues until the partner facing away from the vocabulary words has guessed them all correctly.
6. If they struggle with a word, students can skip it and come back.
7. When they finish all the words, the pair stands.
8. You can choose to stop the game after a few pairs stand, or you can continue as long as you wish.
9. Then, the partners switch roles and repeat steps 4-7.
